

SYRAH

With origins from the Rhône valley in France, syrah is grown widely with styles varying greatly based on terroir. We tasted a range of examples from the Okanagan, that often share resemblance to softer, elegant northern Rhône styles, to Australian and South African styles, where wines, known as shiraz, typically tend to be rich, jammy and bold. Clos du Soleil's 2021 Syrah stood out for its old-world charm, while Barossa Valley Estate Shiraz 2021 from Australia was dense and generous with ripe plums, blueberries balanced with rich tannins. Dhira Roy Chowdhury

MOSCATO D'ASTI

Moscato d'Asti is a delightful, sweet and slightly sparkling wine from Italy's Piedmont region. It's made from the Muscat grape, with intense orange blossom and peach/apricot aromas and a similar wide range of inviting flavours on the palate. The light fizz, low alcohol and moderate acidity make this the perfect pairing for cheese plates and appetizers, or try it with a slice of NY cheesecake! Matt Stortz
