

PINOT NOIR

The great red grape of Burgundy – a (much loved) classic, yet often called a heartbreak variety. Within ideal conditions, pinot noir produces some of the most sensual, transparent, and ethereal wines. Aromas vary from the typical red cherry, raspberry, rhubarb to earth, mushroom, and game. La Crema’s stood out for its elegance, freshness and balance between beautiful ripe strawberries, juicy plums, and velvety tannins.

DESSERT WINES

Encompassing a broad range of styles there is a dessert wine for every person, and every meal. As an unabashed lover of this category of wine I am forever trying different options from different regions and am always on the hunt for a new favourite. Dessert wine can either accompany a dessert or replace one at the end of the meal. All are excellent value and extremely well-made from respected producers. This style of wine is often a labour of love and the winemakers take great care and offer a wine value that can't be beat.
