

SAISON

With its roots as a refreshing beverage for seasonal farmworkers in Wallonia, the Saison is now one of the most diverse styles in modern craft beer. Ranging from pale straw to nearly black in colour, and showcasing everything from mild spicy yeast esters to intense tartness and funk from mixed-fermentation, there is plenty of beautiful variation to behold. In the end, Wild Wind's Zephyr charmed the judges with its true-to-style dryness and refreshing nature coupled with delicate notes of banana, white pepper, and orchard fruit. Stephen Bezan

Meet the Judges

Bill Bonar

Bill is a seasoned veteran of the restaurant industry, and one of Canada's first Certified Cicerones (Beer Sommelier). Over his 25-year career, he built a reputation as the beer guy at wine restaurants. In February 2020 he left all that behind to open Rain Dog Bar, and that's where you can find him now. He's there near every day.
