

CREAM LIQUEURS

Cream liqueurs are a fairly recent addition to the liqueur stable, with Baileys being the first of its kind introduced to the market in 1974. Since this time, the cream liqueur selections now available include a multitude of different flavours with Irish whiskey, rum, vodka, tequila and Scotch whisky all gaining representation as the spirit base in many different cream liqueurs, the thicker viscosity adds another dimension to a rich sweetly textured mouthfeel. I'm personally a big fan of adding cream liqueurs to coffee and cocktails, but also in baking when making flavoured creams and icings for cakes and cookies. Andrew Paulsen
