

INDIA PALE ALES

I was one of those, “I don’t like IPA” people. That changed the more I learned about hop varieties and flavours. Now I know I do like IPAs but they have to be very forward in certain hops. Yes, I’ve become “that” beer snob. The IPAs submitted this year were full of juicy, citrus, balanced hops, and although I didn’t love them all, they were very well made. It may be time to revisit your idea of IPAs and the winners here are a great start. Rachel Drinkle
