

PALE ALE

Pale ale can mean more than one style of beer unfortunately. While it can refer to something more British or Belgian in style, like a cross between a lager and a brown ale, now those are more commonly called ambers. The ones submitted to this category were more in line with American pale ales, both New England style hazy and not, which are hop driven, but sessionable, lower alcohol IPAs. Enjoy! Bill Bonar

BEST IN CLASS

PHILLIPS BREWING
GLITTERBOMB
HAZY PALE ALE

British Columbia, Canada
$16-17 (6-pack cans)
CSPC 824474

JUDGES SELECTION

Bitter Sisters Big Brother
Butch Pale Ale
Alberta, Canada
$17-18 (4-pack cans)
CSPC 854201

Banded Peak Brewing Gate
Razer Vermont Blonde Ale
Alberta, Canada
$18-20 (4-pack cans)
CSPC 841912

Marda Loop
Passchendaele Pale Ale
Alberta, Canada
$17-19 (4-pack cans)
CSPC 827788

Asymmetrical Brewing Cumulus
Lupulus Hazy Pale Ale
Alberta, Canada
$18-20 (4-pack cans)
CSPC 891313

Village Binge Watch
Alberta, Canada
$16-18 (4-pack cans)
CSPC 866772

Banded Peak Brewing Fired
Up Hazy Blonde
Alberta, Canada
$18-20 (4-pack cans)
CSPC 844559

Village Alter Ego
Alberta, Canada
$18-19 (4-pack cans)
CSPC 891727

Meet the Judges

Dean Norris

I've been creating and overseeing the beverage programs for the Vintage Group for over thirteen years. It has given me the opportunity to travel the beverage world, enriching me with a deep comprehension of the world I find myself in. Gatherings of professionals is the most rewarding. It ignites the thoughtful, intelligent and creative pulse, that makes this experience so outstanding.

Vintage Group